Handkerchiefs and Laces.

Fine linen handkerchiefs and delicate laces will not bear rubbing. To clean them, soak in Ivory Soap suds, work them up and down with the hands when they are very delicate it is better to shake them in a fruit-jar about twothirds full of suds , then rinse in clear water. A pinch of gum arabic dissolved in hot water and a little bluing should be used to dip the pieces into before drying. Stretch perfectly smooth on a marble bureau top or a pane of glass and allow to dry. With laces care should be taken that the wrong side is against the marble or glass surface.

Hall, for the purpose of formulating amendments to the same laws of the State.

The laws as they exist to-day are said to be not only manifestly unfair to the sportsman who hunts for pheasure alone, but atterly fail to afford that protection which they were designed to give against the hunter or fisherman for commercial purposes. Particularly litter are all true sportsmen against the very common practice of seining and dynamiting the streams of the State for game fish, by which means not only are fish of marketable size caught and killed, but a wanton waste of thousands of smaller ones, which cannot be used for any purpose whatever, takes place. HORSE OWNERS ARE ALARMED. Fear Consequences of Rucing Their Nags at Newport Winter Meeting. REPUBLIC SPECIAL

REPUBLIC SPECIAL
Lexington, Ky., Dec. 14.—The publication of the statement of the Western Jockey Club that lenlency cannot be expected by persons racing on outlaw tracks has created a sensation here. Many of the smaller owners had been assured that racing a horse or so at Newport would not materially damage their standing with legitimate racing, and the proclamation comes to them as a surprise.

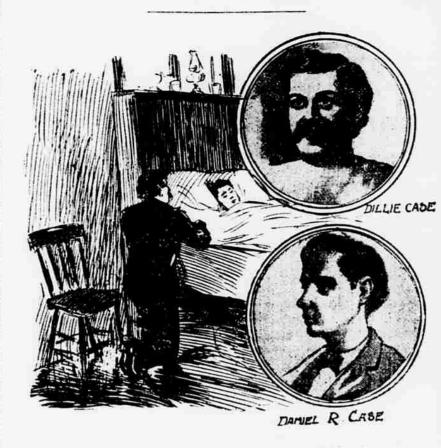

The scheme to run horses under fictitious ownership has received a similar scare, for

as a surprise.

The scheme to run horses under fictitious ownership has received a similar scare, for the horse, should it be any account. Would be barred from racing at any other point. To-night few persons can be found who are willing to go. John Mardes and George Hinkle say they cannot set up over twenty head of horses, including several belonging to other owners. Several exercise boys, some of them having ridden a few races, say they will go.

Thil T. Chinn, son of Colonel Jack Chinn, the starter and politician, has the interests of the outlaw track in hand here, but it appears he will not be able to get over one carload. He has made the owners an offer that the association will pay the transportation to Newport and furnish stalls and feed for the horses, to be paid for only in case they win enough money to pay the bill.

Operators Agree to Export 1,500 Tons of Ore.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL Joplin, Mo., Dec. 14.—At a convention of the zinc ore producers of the district in Jou-lin Friday night the signatures of producers were exhibited showing that the movement to reduce the reserve stock by exportation and curtailment had reached an aggregate of 4.30 tons of ore, 1.50 tons of this for ex-port.

the zinc ore producers of the district in Joblin Friday night the signatures of producers were exhibited showing that the movement to reduce the reserve stock by exportation and curtailment had reached an aggregate of 4200 tons of ore, 1500 tons of this for export.

It was shown at this convention that there were 5,000 tons of reserve stock in the bins throughout the district at the end of October and this had been increased to the end of last week to 10,000 tons, but that from lack of cars for shipping the ore the smelters were behind just, 5,000 tons on their shipments. In other words, that the 5,000 tons additional ore were owned by the smelters, but had to be left in the bins from lack of transportation facilities.

The point at issue was merely to show that there was being no more ore outputted than was necessary to the needs of the smelters, but that circumstances had made it appear that there was more ore than was needed

It is therefore assumed that to dispose of the original 5,000 tons of reserve stock will re-establish the ore market on the footing prior to the time when the corf stringency began affecting prices. It is proposed to dispose of this by exportation and by curtellment, with the result so far attained as outlined above.

It is expected that further additions to the inovement will be made sufficient to reduce the ore on hand in the bins by 5,000 tons. This, it is believed, will solve the question, and if it does not bring an immediate return of the higher prices will gileast stop the market from going lower. In support of this theory it has been cited that the assay basis was not lowered during the past week, as had been threatened.

FIRST EXPORTATION

The "Liberian Minister" is looked upon in Washington very much like the Minister to Dahomy and is one of the diplomatic posts which give the State Department almost endless trouble.

In Cleveland's first administration a white Democrat tried the post and returned as "persona non grata."

The cause of his recall also was shooting, but of a different kind than that indulged in by the St. Joseph diplomat.

Cleveland's Minister and his family used to be greatly annoyed and embarrassed by bathers of both sexes, disporting in the vicinity of the American Legation.

Recoming exasperated, he took down his gun one morning, loaded it with fine shot and fired into the crowd of bathers. No serious injury was inflicted, but the shot took effect in one of the dusky "court" ladles and the United States was advised that our Minister had rendered himself "persona non grata."

FIRST EXPORTATION

The first exportation of ore from the Jophin district was during the week ending November 9, 1830, when 260 tons were sold to agents of the Vivians of Swansea. Wales. The price paid for the ore was above the price down on account of a surplus of the commodity. The week before the export the highest nrice was quoted at 255 zer ton, and two weeks later, a week after the ore was shipped, the price was $25 mer ton. A year ago the Missouri and Kansus Zine Miners' Association exported to a surplus of the commodity. When the stomach won't work the whole body suffers, as every tissue or structure of the body depends on the stomach for nourishment and renewal.

If the stomach is weak, inactive and unable to properly digest food, it not only subjects the body to a state of chronic semi-starvation or hautitudly hilf-fed condition that weakens it and renders it less productive of accomplishment and less resistant to disease, but it allows of the absorption of half-digested, rotting material that is a positive poison to it and taxes the eliminative organs to expel it from the body. Thus it will be seen that the inconvenience and distress, the disturbed rest, the horrors of insomnia, and the dreadful captices of nightmare, are the most insignificant part of indigestion and that real danger lurks benind the condition.

Few prople seem to realize the dangers of weak, defective and disordered digestion. Health reports do not give it has a cause of death because some other disease sets in to work destructive changes, only made possible by the imperfect digestion, and the death is accredited to them.
